

Once upon a time, there was a little mouse by the name of Benzo. He loved to eat cheese so much that he could not resist the smell of it. Every morning, Benzo would awaken from his sleep with a big smile on his face. "Yippee! I just love cheese!", said Benzo.

Every morning, Benzo made sure that his bathtub was filled with bubbles made of cheese.

As he continued to wash to make himself clean, he would smile and say, "Yippee! I love cheese!"

Once Benzo was all nice and clean, he would brush

his teeth with his favorite toothpaste made of cheese.

He brushed and brushed until all his teeth were clean.

All dressed and clean, Benzo is taken by surprise from the aroma of cheese coming from the kitchen.

“Oh boy! Something smells really good!”, said Benzo.

The smell of cheese made him so happy that he just smiled and said, “Yippee! I love cheese!”
